First Impressions

Your website may be the first point of contact a potential customer has with your company. Would your company website entice you to part with any money? There are many small to medium sized companies that have poor websites that have been designed by friends or family members who 'know about websites.' Although this may save you money in the short term, think of the amount of customers that have chosen a rival company because of the amateurish image that your website portrays.

Branding

It is important that your website reflects the image of your company. Online branding is imperative if you want visitors to relate your website with your business.

Sell by Date

If your website hasn't been updated for 12 months or more then it is out of date. With new technological advances in website design and development software such as Macromedia's Flash 5, it is easy to get left behind. At OceanWeb Systems we have developers with experience using packages such as Flash 5.

Free Website Report

At OceanWeb Systems we can analyse your existing website and present you with a one page summary of the strengths and weaknesses of your website. This report is free and you are under no obligation to act on its findings.

If you have any concerns regarding Website Design or something that we have not mentioned above, then please do not hesitate to contact us.
